

FIG. 1

Install a water hammer arrester in a pipeline, the water hammer arrester comprising a pressure sensor, a proportional-integral-differential control module and a control valve

the pressure sensor emits a signal when pipeline pressure experiences a specific type of pressure variation the proportional-integral-differential control module receives the signal from the pressure sensor to perform a linear shut down of the control valve

FIG. 2